The rejections

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1 to 3, 5 to 14 and 16 to 20 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 to 7 of U.S. Patent No. 6,235,453. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the sole difference between the claims is the degassing. However, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to degas the IC after treatment in order to remove any remaining impurities. It is noted, that the patent sets forth an IC only, however, the patent teaches the IC to be similar to the instantly claimed structure.

Examiner's Remarks

Applicants' argument concerning the You et al reference is noted. The reference is commonly owned and thus not prior art as argued by applicants. However, this does not prevent a obviousness type double patenting rejection.
